MAJANI

Il cioccolato dal 1796

RICETTA ORIGINALE

CASA FONDATA
NEL 1796

In 1911, when Fabbrica Italiana Automobili Torino (FIAT) launched a competition for a confection to gift to clients to mark the launch of its latest model, Majani took up the challenge and invented its first four-layered Cremino chocolate (a nod to the car's name, "Tipo 4"), seeing off stiff competition to win. Thus began the story of Cremino Fiat, a classic combination of creamy hazelnut and almond with cocoa mass for a new, heavenly marriage of flavours, as inimitable today as it was then.

A collage of various chocolate bars. The top left shows a grid of dark chocolate squares with a wavy pattern. To its right is a vertical strip of white chocolate with dark raspberries. Further right is a large section of dark chocolate covered in fine, dark brown shavings. The bottom left features a section of dark chocolate with bright red, chunky pieces. The bottom center shows a grid of dark chocolate squares with a wavy pattern. The bottom right is a large section of white chocolate with several almonds scattered on top. The text "Chocolate Bars" is centered in the middle of the collage.

Anna Maria Ferrarini

MAJANI

1796 1832 1911 2000

LI SCORZA

In 1796, the first chocolate shavings were created by the MAJANI family in the town of Vigonza, in the Emilia-Romagna region. This traditional technique involves melting dark chocolate and then shaving it into thin, delicate pieces. These shavings are then dried and used as a topping for cakes, pastries, and other confectionery items.

IL CASSINO FAT

In 1832, the MAJANI family introduced the Cassino Fat, a traditional chocolate cake. This cake is made with dark chocolate, butter, and eggs, and is characterized by its dense, moist texture. It is typically served with a dusting of powdered sugar and is a popular treat during the Christmas season.

IL TIRTELLINO

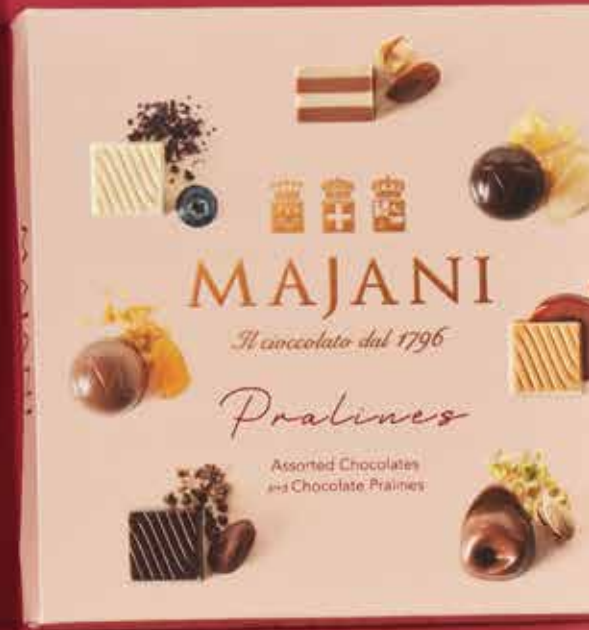

In 1911, the MAJANI family created the Tirteellino, a traditional praline. This praline is made with dark chocolate, hazelnuts, and a touch of orange zest. It is a delicate and flavorful treat that is often served as a dessert or a gift.
